

During her tenure with the school district, she has made sure that students come first. Rogers High School has been named as one of the best high schools in the State and Nation by U.S. News and World Report under the direction of Dr. Darr. She has directed the district in times of fast growth and increased diversity. The Rogers School Board recognized Dr. Darr's dedication to education by naming its newest elementary school in her honor. The Janie Darr Elementary School opened in 2014 and has the capacity to serve up to 750 students.

Dr. Darr has a special way of treating everyone with dignity and respect, so it is no surprise that public service is a centerpiece of her life. If serving as superintendent isn't enough to keep her busy, her commitment to the community and the State keep her active in a variety of other roles, including service on the Arvest Bank Board, United Way, Ozark Guidance Center, and Rogers Historical Museum boards. She is an ex-officio member of the Rogers Public Education Foundation board and a lifetime member of the parent-teacher association. She is an active member of Central United Methodist Church in Rogers, where she is a trustee and former staff-parish relations and education committee chair, as well as a former Sunday school teacher and youth counselor.

I congratulate Dr. Janie Darr for her outstanding commitment to education, the Rogers School District, and our community as a whole. As a member of the Rogers School Board for many years, I had the privilege of working closely with Dr. Darr and have greatly appreciated her friendship and leadership. I enjoyed supporting her efforts to continue making the school district a positive experience for students, faculty, and staff. I wish her continued success in retirement. Rogers School District is much improved thanks to the dedicated leadership of Dr. Darr.●

RECOGNIZING FORT SMITH NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE

● Mr. COTTON. Mr. President, in honor of the National Park Service's 100th birthday year, I want to recognize Fort Smith National Historic Site in Fort Smith, AR. Situated along the Arkansas River, Fort Smith was officially recognized as a historic site in 1961 to preserve two frontier forts from the 19th century, as well as the courtroom of the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Arkansas. These sites are a wonderful representation of the history of the Arkansas River Valley.

The first fort was first established to resolve disputes between the Osage and Cherokee in 1817. But as frontier settlement continued further west, the fort was eventually abandoned in 1824. The remnants of its foundation were later uncovered by archeologists and are visible on site today.

The second fort was built in 1838, just 2 years after Arkansas officially became a State. It served a variety of functions for over three decades. Two of the fort's original buildings are still intact today and are open for tours. Visitors to Fort Smith can make a stop in the fort's original commissary building and experience firsthand what it was like when it functioned as supply warehouse for provisions waiting to be sent to troops out west.

Fort Smith is also home to the jail and courtroom where the infamous Judge Isaac Parker—also called the hanging judge for the number of death sentences he handed down—presided for two decades in the late 19th century. Although jurisdiction of this particular court has since shifted, at the time, Judge Parker and the court wielded vast influence over an expansive area.

The Fort Smith National Historic Site is just another example of Arkansas' rich American history. I encourage Arkansans and all Americans to stop by and learn about some of the prominent figures and characters in 19th century Arkansas—including U.S. marshals, outlaws, and judges. In honor of the National Park Service's 100th year, I encourage you to find your park.●
